

8th Dec 2004

Thank you for visiting the Medhospital Foundation (MHF) website.

MHF started a year ago when we realized that the main gap between the available medical help and the help reaching the people was mere insufficient consumer knowledge. The majority of the reasons for untimely and inadequate medical action taken are due to the fears associated with the complexity of medical information available on the www.

MHF's mission is to help the families and children by empowering them with awareness of health and medical help in a simple and effective language. All its efforts are dedicated to this.

You may be looking for information to better understand the subject, you may be looking for educational resource for someone dear, you may be a healthcare professional looking for a simple and reliable resource to recommend to a patient, you may be a child looking for answers, or you may be just like one of us trying to bridge this educational gap, the MHF website will provide you with what you need.

MHF is about life and living. Welcome to the MHF website.

Warmest regards

Indrajit Sinha
Founding member